SOCIAL PROGRAMME

THURSDAY 4th NOVEMBER 2010

Cookery School and lunch at Bordeaux Quay

Learn to make pasta like the professionals!

Pasta dough demo

Rolling pasta and making ravioli

Broad bean, lemon & ricotta or butternut, garlic & thyme

Pesto or Sage butter

Cooking, serving & eating

Bordeaux Quay is an award-winning venue with a reputation for great food and service, stylish décor and a stunning waterside location in Bristol city centre. It is the UK's first eco restaurant to achieve a gold rating under the Soil Association's sustainable catering scheme. The Food For Life Catering Mark, developed by the Soil Association and backed by Prince Charles, is the first to guarantee customers get a sustainable meal, with standards governing things such as food additives, animal welfare and the seasonality of the produce chefs use. It is also one of the Bristol's best-loved independent restaurants, adding to the variety of this unique city centre.

Meet at venue at 10.45 for 11.00 start. The session is 1.5 hrs then lunch to follow. This includes 'nibbles' to start, the food that you have cooked for main course (ravioli) and a pudding. Drinks are extra.

Bordeaux Quay, V-Shed, Canons Way, Bristol BS1 5UH

Directions can be found on the website <http://www.bordeaux-quay.co.uk/find-us>

FRIDAY 5th NOVEMBER 2010

Bristol Blue Glass

Taxis to venue will be arranged. Meet 10.00. Return to Brasserie Blanc in time for lunch.

Bristol Blue Glass has been synonymous with the city of Bristol for the past four centuries. Today, skilled glass makers are continuing a time-honoured tradition at our thriving, working factory. You can watch the glass being blown, spend time in the museum of glass, listen to the fascinating commentaries and join in with exciting, hands-on activities. Glass blowing demonstrations daily. Glass museum. Public viewing gallery. The widest selection of Bristol glass available to buy in the South West. Hands on activities for all ages. Entrance is free and there is a coffee shop where you can relax after the visit.

Alternatively you can enjoy some retail therapy in Bristol's new shopping mall, Cabot Circus, some of the finest shops in Bristol City centre, close to the meeting venue at Brasserie Blanc. In 2009 this development won the Regeneration Scheme of the Year and boasts shops such as Harvey Nichols, House of Fraser and many more.
